CHUBB®

Chubb is pleased to present a comprehensive insurance solution designed specifically to help not-for-profit organizations cope with a range of potentially devastating threats to their financial well-being.

Chubb's extensive Enhancement Endorsement combined with our standard Not For Profit Organization Liability policy form provides best-in-class coverage to not-for-profit customers. By combining almost thirty different coverage enhancements into one endorsement we have created an easy to use solution for qualifying clients.

Every dollar counts for a not-for-profit organization. The bottom line matters.

Your organization's success has a direct impact on the recipients of your services and the well-being of your employees and volunteers.

That's why you carefully consider every investment and expenditure. And it's why you also have to carefully consider the financial impact of a sudden liability or crime-related loss.

Even with a skilled and experienced team at the helm, your organization may encounter unanticipated threats or risks that due to their complexity or nature are better off mitigated through insurance protection.

Why your Organization needs Executive Protection Coverage

In today's litigious environment, no business relationship - including your dealings with donors, employees, customers, recipients of services, suppliers, vendors, other not-for-profit organizations, government agencies and creditors - is free of risk. Any of these parties could sue your organization or engage in criminal activity that could result in the loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Your organization's general liability and umbrella insurance may not cover the financial consequences of litigation brought, or criminal activities perpetrated, by a long list of constituents.

Tailored Protection for Not-For-Profit Organizations

Chubb is pleased to present a comprehensive insurance solution designed specifically to help not-for-profit organizations cope with a range of potentially devastating threats to their financial well-being. Chubb's extensive Enhancement Endorsement combined with our standard Not For Profit Organization Liability policy form provides best-in-class coverage to not-for-profit customers. By combining almost thirty different coverage enhancements into one endorsement we have created an easy to use solution for qualifying clients.

Coverage included in Chubb's Not for Profit Organization Liability Policy with the addition of the Not for Profit Enhancement Endorsement:

Directors & Officers and Entity Liability (D&O)

The risk: A donor, recipient of your services, or other not-for-profit organization could sue your organization and its executives for misrepresentation, breach of duty, or even an error. Such allegations can threaten the personal assets of your directors and officers.

What the coverage does: Helps protect an organization and its directors and officers against exposures associated with the management actions and decisions of its executives.

Employment Practices Liability (EPL)

The risk: An employee or vendor could sue your organization for wrongful dismissal, discrimination, harassment, or retaliation.

What the coverage does: Helps protect an organization and its executives and employees from the consequences of employment-related wrongdoing.

Fiduciary Liability

The risk: A retiree or employee sues your organization and its plan fiduciaries for a breach in fiduciary duty.

What the coverage does: Helps protect an organization, its benefit plans, and its fiduciaries against exposures resulting from the administration and management of employee retirement/pension plans and welfare benefit plans.

Employment Practices Liability: Canadian Claims Examples

Human Rights Complaint

Organization: Association
Employee count: Fewer than 75
Annual revenue: Less than $65,000,000

A human rights complaint was filed by an employee, claiming discrimination on the basis of race. The claimant was fined for an infraction of the rules related to his duties. He felt that due to fact that he was a visible minority, the fine that was imposed was grossly exaggerated compared to white members of the association who faced similar violations.

The matter was settled for just under $15,000, including defence costs.

Wrongful Termination for Foundation

Organization: Foundation
Employee count: Fewer than 20
Annual revenue: Less than $5,000,000

An employee of a foundation was terminated by a board decision. The employee alleged age discrimination. She filed a complaint with the BC Human Rights Tribunal against all the board members present at the meeting. A year after the initial complaint was filed the parties attended a settlement conference at the Tribunal and they settled the dispute. In the settlement agreement the foundation agreed to institute an anti-discrimination policy, building on the existing harassment policy. They also agreed to hold an orientation for all staff about the policy and to brief the board about the new policy.

The employment practices matter was settled for over $90,000, including defence costs.

Wrongful Termination for Association

Organization: Association
Employee count: Fewer than 100
Annual revenue: Less than $25,000,000

The claimant was working as a contract employee in charge of the construction of a new expansion project for the association. The duration of the contract was for a minimum of 55 weeks. The contract employee claimed that the contract was ended early and in an abusive manner with no reason being given. This added to the complexity of her claim.

The matter was settled for just under $55,000, including defence costs.

Additional Policies Available for Not-for-Profit Organizations

Crime

The risk: No organization is immune to the potential losses of an embezzlement scheme carried out over a number of years.

What the coverage does: Helps protect an organization from the potentially devastating costs of employee and third-party theft, forgery and computer fraud.

Kidnap Ransom and Extortion

The risk: An employee is kidnapped while traveling overseas, or a criminal attempts to extort money by threatening to damage your organization's property.

What the coverage does: Helps protect an organization against a wide range of costs associated with incidents of kidnapping or extortion, including the cost of crisis management services.
