At Chubb, you're more than a claim.

Case study

2014 Mercedes S550, hit in the rear while at a stop light

- Agreed Value: $108,000
- Mileage: 4,901
- The other driver had

$25,000 coverage for property damage. The other driver's insurance estimated repairs would cost $9,000. Chubb's MAPS shop's initial estimate was $33,000, but our Auto Technical Specialist noted that the collision energy transfer had also caused roof damage.

Since there was no manufacturer approved technique for that, we totaled the car and paid the client $108,000.

Diminution In Value cover

For cars over fifteen years old, our pioneering Diminution In Value (DIV) cover, pays whatever the difference is between your car's market value before and after repair, as well as the repair costs themselves.

The option to replace or restore

If your car is over 15 years old, we will, if necessary, pay up to 25% (max £100k) above the Agreed Value to restore it back to its condition before the covered accident occurred. Most insurers declare a car a total loss if the repairs cost more than 60% of it's value.

Case study

2016 GMC Yukon, hit on the left front fender and door, while sitting at an intersection. Airbags deployed and there was damage to the wheels on the left side.

- Agreed Value: $72,260
- Actual Cash Value of the vehicle: $61,398
- Mileage: 2,657

Initial damage estimate equaled $21,763 (35% of the actual cash value of the vehicle). However, because the inner structure (cowl panel and hinge pillar) may have been damaged as well, which could lead to safety issues, and the salvage value was high ($26,608), we totaled the vehicle.

We paid $75,759 to the lien holder, according to our client's GAP coverage. The client didn't have to pay anything to the lien holder before purchasing a new vehicle.
