Claim Scenarios

Situation	Risk	Action	Outcome
A volunteer helping to renovate homes fell off a ladder and suffered multiple broken bones.	The volunteer was in severe pain and needed immediate medical attention to help ensure her safe recovery.	Chubb's Participant Accident policy covered both the ambulance cost to transport the volunteer to the hospital and other treatment costs for her broken bones under the accident medical expense benefit.	Chubb's Participant Accident policy enabled the sponsoring organization to demonstrate its commitment to its volunteers' well-being; the volunteer paid no out-of-pocket medical costs.
A school's new teacher was not yet covered under his employer's medical plan. While volunteering for his church during his personal time, he and other parishioners were involved in a bus accident, leaving him with severe back pain.	Without major medical coverage, the volunteer was concerned about his ability to pay medical bills related to his injury. Since the accident occurred outside of work, he knew Workers Compensation wasn't available.	The Chubb Participant Accident policy purchased by the church provided coverage for all tests, medications, and physical therapy. The policy also provided coverage for a portion of lost wages, as the volunteer missed two weeks of work due to his injury.	Chubb's Participant Accident policy helped with the volunteer's medical expenses and part of his lost wages. As a result, the church was able to demonstrate its care for its volunteers, since it purchased a policy that went above and beyond the required statutory coverage.

The claim scenarios described are hypothetical and are offered solely to illustrate the types of situations that may result in claims. They are not based in actual claims and should not be compared to an actual claim. The precise coverage afforded is subject to the terms and conditions of the policy as issued.
